3. Use the drop down under View Royalties by Month to select the first month of the period from which you want to calculate (how many months will it take to hit the $3000?)
4. Download as many months as you need (it isn't calendar year, only a consecutive 12 month period). I use Generate Report in New Format

- Use the Total Royalty worksheet (click on the bottom tab) and then copy all the data from your successive reports below the data in your starting month. Copy all the lines below title and paste them at the bottom until you meet your monetary target (or 12 months)
- Highlight the header row (click on the “2” next to title)
- Click the “Data” toolset, then click “Filter.” An arrow will show up at the top of each labeled column.
- Select the title of the book you want to use for SFWA membership consideration.
- The far right column will have your total royalties for that one title, by market.
- Take care that you are looking at sales in USD. Other currencies will need to be converted to USD. I have a template that I use should you need the foreign sales numbers.
